

Tyler the Creator sets up charity concert in Ladera Heights

Tyler wants to give back to his community

Tyler the Creator who is a famous rapper, singer, songwriter, record producer, actor, and more, has decided to hold a charity concert in the town he grew up in, Ladera Heights which is in California. All the proceedings from this concert will be donated to Feeding America, which is nonprofit network of 200 food banks leading the fight against hunger in the United States. In an interview over the weekend,

Tyler has stated, "I grew up in Ladera Heights and my family was so hardworking, but at times we did not have enough food to feed the entire family. I want to help make a difference and raise more awareness for families who are unable to get food at some points. It is nothing to be ashamed or embarrassed of as I have been there myself. Everything I earn at this Feeding America concert, will go to helping fight against hunger."

Tyler plans on singing some songs from his Igor album but also plans on focusing on his new, Call Me If You Get Lost album that was just released earlier in the year. He also plans on having some of his features from the Call Me If You Get Lost show up as guest appearances. He states, "I definitely want Brent coming out here for this, but as for the rest ya'll will have to wait to find out."

Click back here to return to our main page!